

文學院
Faculty of Arts

日本研究學系
Department of Japanese Studies

CUHK Japan Forum

What are Japanologists for:

Our Work and Mission

Prof. MITO Takamichi

30 October 2024 (Wed) 11:00 am – 12:00 noon

In-person (No registration required):

Room 401, Leung Kau Kui Building, CUHK

Online (Registration required): Zoom →

<https://cuhk.zoom.us/meeting/register/tJ0qduiprzMiGtajJEQRRYbaGxGvHDn3htz6>

All are welcome!

Japanologists at universities are engaged in intensive research, teaching, administration and external engagement. We are so overwhelmed by increasing tasks in these crucial areas of work and often forget our crucial mission. This presentation attempts to consider the importance and mission of Japanologists, sharing my 40-year long career in Japanese Studies.

MITO Takamichi, Tam Mito, a graduate of International Christian University and University of Tsukuba, Japan, is an expert of International Political Economy and has taught Japanese Studies at leading universities including CUHK, Cambridge, SOAS/London, Monash, Kyushu, Lund, Harvard, Southern Methodist, Waseda and Kwansai Gakuin Universities.

Enquiries: NAGAOKA Misaki (mnagaoka@cuhk.edu.hk)

